

HOTEL FABRIC

Paris, France

Acting as a living celebration of its building's past as a textile factory, Hotel Fabric showcases its original, characterful style through a blend of traditional architectural style with some newer contemporary touches. Architect Vincent Bastie worked together with designers Agnes Louboutin and Patrice Henry to create a unique living space that will leave a lasting impression on each of its guests.

Contemporary Parisian Charm

The details are what make this hotel so magnificent: from the decadently patterned tiles to the exposed brick walls featured in many parts of the building, Hotel Fabric put a lot of time and effort into perfecting the design and style of their creative accommodation.

The Location

Located in the up and coming 11th district of Paris, Hotel Fabric is slap bang in the middle of the city's old industrial neighbourhood which has plenty of lively bars and restaurants, designed to fulfil the labourers' work hard play hard lifestyles.

The Rooms

All 33 rooms at Hotel Fabric have an iconic design that aims to create a bright and spacious area that incorporates delicate patterns and fabrics that are inspired by the hotel's heritage in the textile industry.

Nibbles & Tipples

Head to the hotel's dining area every morning for a traditional French breakfast and a coffee to kickstart your day in the Parisian capital. There is also an honesty bar there for when you return from your day of exploring to enjoy an aperitif at your leisure.

Make sure you make time for a trip to the in-house spa where you can expect to be completely rejuvenated and free from your troubles in a well-needed, heavenly hour or so.
